

Florida Children's Initiative Overview & Designation Process

Overview

The 2008 Florida Legislature assigned The Ounce of Prevention Fund of Florida the responsibility for reviewing and approving requests from local municipalities and/or counties to obtain a Children's Initiative designation. The authority to review and approve such requests is based in Florida Statute (F.S.) 409.147.

A Children's Initiative is a neighborhood or community in Florida where the infrastructure and opportunities that middle-class communities take for granted are nonexistent or so marginal that they are ineffective:

1. Children living in these neighborhoods are not read to by an adult on a regular basis and attend a prekindergarten education program at a much lower rate than children in other communities.
2. These children experience below-average performance on standardized tests and graduate from high school in fewer numbers.
3. Most of these children are eligible for the free or reduced-price school lunch program.
4. Children in these neighborhoods often suffer from high rates of asthma, a higher risk of lead poisoning, and inadequate health care, and they are routinely exposed to violence and crime.

In spite of these obstacles, these neighborhoods are many times home to strong individuals and institutions that are committed to making a difference in the lives of children and their families.

It is therefore the intent of the Legislature to assist disadvantaged areas within the state in creating a community-based service network that develops, coordinates, and provides quality education, accessible health care, youth development programs, opportunities for employment, and safe and affordable housing for children and families living within its boundaries.

F.S. 409.147 establishes a process that clearly identifies severely disadvantaged areas and provides guidance for developing a new social service paradigm that systematically coordinates programs that address the critical needs of children and their families and for directing efforts to rebuild the basic infrastructure of the community.

Requesting a Children's Initiative Designation

Municipalities and/or communities seeking a Children's Initiative designation from the state of Florida should follow the process prescribed by the Legislature and outlined in sections II and III of this document to create a Children's Initiative and request designation. If a local Children's Initiative already exists, the governmental entity requesting designation for the existing Children's Initiative should submit a request along with documentation, as listed in section III of this document, demonstrating the initiative has satisfied all of the designation criteria.

Children's Initiative Designation Process
